

IN-MI Mennonite Conference Regions

June 2009

As part of transitioning to regionalized ministry staff, the Missional Leadership Team plans to shift from seven clusters to five regions. While partly precipitated by changes in clusters over the last decade and by the economic realities of decreasing revenues, this also offers an opportunity to look again at natural connections between congregations. This arrangement leaves area councils as they are and changes how they are grouped. The plan is to pay attention to what emerges the next two years as congregations engage a missional imagination and then make further adjustments.
